

To Whom It May Concern,

I am excited to apply for the Water Projects Coordinator position in Northern Arizona with The Nature Conservancy. With a strong background in resource management, project coordination, and stakeholder engagement, I am eager to contribute to your mission of preserving and restoring Arizona's vital waterways.

In my previous roles, I have successfully led initiatives focused around vegetation management and ensuring infrastructure safety standards, all of which revolve around the availability of clean water sources. As a Consulting Utility Forester, I have experience collaborating with diverse investors and contractors as well as Arizona-based agricultural landowners, conservation organizations, and government agencies, to develop and implement projects that inevitably impact groundwater use and quality. My time owning and operating independently has enhanced my ability to negotiate contracts, manage project budgets, and navigate complex regulatory processes, including environmental policies like NEPA and MEPA (Massachusetts Environmental Policy Act). I am confident that my professional background and technical ability aligns well with the responsibilities outlined for this role and that I will be able to represent TNC in an ideal manor.

Beyond practical expertise, I am passionate about building strong community relationships to drive conservation efforts forward. I thrive in cross-functional teams and have a proven ability to influence outcomes through creative problem-solving and effective communication. My dedication to sustainable water management and my hands-on experience in project coordination make me a strong fit for this position.

I welcome the opportunity to bring my skills and enthusiasm to The Nature Conservancy. Thank you for your time and consideration—I look forward to the possibility of discussing how I can contribute to your important work.

Best regards,

Molly Treadwell
